REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE

I, the Chairman of the Joint Committee to which the Bill* further to amend the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939, was referred, having been authorised to submit the Report on their behalf, present this their Report, with the Bill as amended by the Committee annexed thereto.

2. The Bill was introduced in the Rajya Sabha on the 11th December, 1965 by Shri Raj Bahadur, the then Minister of Transport.

3. The motion for reference of the Bill to a Joint Committee of the Houses (Appendix I) was moved in the Rajya Sabha by Shri C.M. Poonacha, the then Minister of State in the Ministry of Transport and Aviation, on the 3rd August, 1966, and was adopted on the same day. A message was thereafter transmitted to the Lok Sabha on the 4th August, 1966, communicating to the Lok Sabha the adoption of the said motion by the Rajya Sabha. The third Lok Sabha was dissolved on the 3rd March, 1967, before any action could be taken pursuant to the said message.

4. A fresh motion for reference of the Bill to a Joint Committee of the Houses was moved in the Rajya Sabha by Prof. V.K.R.V. Rao, the Minister of Transport and Shipping on the 13th February, 1968, and was adopted on the same day (Appendix II).

5. The motion for concurrence in the recommendation of the Rajya Sabha was discussed in the Lok Sabha on the 8th May, 1968, and was adopted on the same day (Appendix III).

6. The message from the Lok Sabha was reported to the Rajya Sabha on the 9th May, 1968.

7. The Report of the Committee was to be presented to the House on the 31st August, 1968. The Committee were, however, granted an extension of time up to the 30th November, 1968.

*Published in the Gazette of India, Part II, Section 2, dated the 11th December 1965.

8. The Committee held ten sittings in all.

9. At their first meeting held on the 14th May, 1968, the Committee decided to issue a Press Communiqué inviting memoranda from various organisations and individuals interested in the subject-matter of the Bill and to hear evidence from them. The Committee authorised the Chairman to decide, after examining the memoranda, as to who should be called to give oral evidence, before the Committee.

10. Twenty-five memoranda on the Bill were received by the Committee from various organisations and individuals (Appendix IV).

11. The Committee heard evidence tendered by ten witnesses (Appendix V).

12. The Committee have decided that the evidence tendered before them should be printed and laid on the Table in both the Houses.

13. The Committee considered and adopted the Report on the 15th November, 1968.

14. The observation of the Committee with regard to the principal changes suggested in the Bill are set out below:—

Clause 2

(i) The Committee are of the opinion that the terms “area” and “route” which occur in the various sections of the principal Act and in the clauses of the Bill should be defined. The Committee also feel that the definition of “articulated vehicle”, as given in the Explanation in Form E of the First Schedule, should be brought to the section by which the various expressions have been defined. The Committee have accordingly inserted suitable definitions of these terms in the clause.

(ii) The Committee feel that the three-wheeled vehicles (such as two-seater scooters, four-seater rickshaws and tempos) should, according to their use, fall appropriately in the category either of "motor-cabs" or "goods vehicles" and not in the category of "motor-cycles" as contemplated in the principal Act. The Committee have therefore suitably revised the definition of the term "motor-cycle".

Clauses 5 and 6

The changes made are of a drafting and consequential nature.

Clause 10

The Committee feel that the total period of temporary registration of a chassis to which a body has not been attached should not exceed 3 months. Necessary changes clarifying the position have been made in the clause.

Clause 13

The changes made in sub-sections (2), (4) and (5) of the proposed section 31A are of a clarifying and drafting nature.

Clause 17

The Committee feel that in view of the definition of the expression "transport vehicle", the words and brackets "(including a chassis to which a body has not been attached)" occurring in clause (k) proposed to be inserted in section 42(3) of the principal Act should be deleted. The clause has been amended accordingly.

The Committee feel that in case of natural calamity like floods and earthquakes the question of obtaining countersignature of the appropriate authority on the permit for the diversion of the route to enable the transport vehicle to reach its destination should not arise. The Committee have accordingly inserted new clause (m) to that effect.

Clause 18

The changes made in the clause are intended to enable the State Governments to issue directions to the State Transport Authorities for the grant of permits for alternative routes to private operators whose permits are not renewed as a result of the new provisions made in clause 41 of the Bill. The other change made in the clause is of a drafting nature.

Clause 19

Section 44(2) of the principal Act provides that the Chairman of a State Transport Authority or a Regional Transport Authority shall be a person who has had judicial experience. As there was some doubt as to whether any member of such Authority who did not have judicial experience could preside over the meetings of the Authority during the absence of its Chairman, the Committee feel that the position should be clarified by providing that in the absence of the Chairman any member of the Authority could preside notwithstanding that such member does not have judicial experience. The Committee are, however, of the opinion that when a Regional Transport Authority consists of only one member, that member must have judicial experience. Necessary changes have accordingly been made in the clause.

Clause 20

The Committee are of the opinion that the maximum security deposit of a sum of rupees five thousand per motor vehicle as required by the clause, is excessive. The Committee have accordingly reduced such maximum to rupees five hundred per motor vehicle.

Clause 25

In view of the practical difficulties involved in completing in time the procedure for the renewal of a permit, the Committee feel that an application for the renewal of a permit shall be made—

- (a) in the case of a stage carriage permit or a public carrier's permit, not less than one hundred and twenty days before the date of its expiry; and
- (b) in any other case, not less than sixty days before the date of its expiry.

The clause has been amended accordingly.

Clause 29

(i) Sub-clause (a): The idea underlying the proviso proposed to be inserted in the principal Act by the sub-clause is to dispense with the requirement of counter-signature on a permit in regard to a route which originates and terminates in the same State but passes through a small portion of another State. The Committee are of the opinion that "sixteen kilometres" as provided in the Bill could not be treated as a small portion of a route for this purpose and as such feel that the length of such portion should be reduced to eight kilometres.

(ii) Sub-clause (e): The Committee are of the opinion that the maximum security deposit of rupees five thousand per motor vehicle as required by the proposed sub-section (8), is excessive. The Committee have, therefore, reduced such maximum to two thousand rupees per motor vehicle.

Clause 31

The Committee are of the view that thirty days is too short a period for preferring an appeal against the decision, direction or order of the Inter-State Transport Commission, and have accordingly sum not exceeding—

Clause 36

The Committee are of the opinion that in order to protect the interests of consigners and consignees of goods, a sufficiently high ceiling should be laid down on the quantum of security deposit that could be demanded from an agent or canvasser in the Bill itself. The Committee have accordingly modified sub-clause (c) of the proposed section 66A(2) so as to provide that a security deposit of a sum not exceeding—

- (a) five thousand rupees may be demanded from an agent engaged in the business of collecting, forwarding or distributing goods carried by public carriers;

- (b) five hundred rupees may be demanded from any other agent or canvasser.

Clause 39

The Committee feel that the scheme relating to an area or route which a State Transport Undertaking would like to take over in public interest should be published not only in the Official Gazette but also in at least one newspaper circulating in the area or route which is proposed to be covered by the scheme, so that the contents of the scheme may be brought to the notice of the person affected thereby to enable him to file objections against such scheme. The Committee have accordingly amended the clause.

Clause 41

The Committee feel that when a scheme of nationalisation is published under section 68C, no permit should be granted or renewed to any person. But in view of the fact that between the publication of such scheme in the draft form and the date of its publication in the approved form, there is bound to be a time lag, the Committee feel that temporary permits should be issued for the intervening period to the State Transport Undertaking, if it so desires, or, when it does not so desire, to any other operator, so that the interests of the users may not suffer. New sub-sections, viz., sub-sections (1A), (1B), (1C) and (1D) are, therefore, proposed to be inserted in section 68F. The clause has been amended accordingly.

Clauses 48 and 49

The Committee feel that the power to exempt vehicles with left hand steering control from the operation of the proposed sub-section (2) of section 79 and of section 80 of the principal Act should also vest in the State Governments. The Committee have accordingly omitted the word 'Central' in both the clauses.

Clause 56

The Committee are of the opinion that the period given to an insurer to intimate his refusal to the transfer of the certificate of insurance and the policy to the insured and purchaser of the second-hand vehicle, should be extended from seven days to fifteen days.

The Committee are also of the opinion that where the purchaser of a second-hand vehicle has paid to the seller some amount as consideration for the unexpired term of the insurance policy of that vehicle but the insurer has refused to transfer the insurance policy in favour of the purchaser, the insurer should refund to such purchaser the amount which he would have had to refund to the insured for the unexpired term of the policy.

The Committee have accordingly made necessary changes in the clause.

Clause 61

Under section 110C (2) of the principal Act, the Claims Tribunal has been vested with all the powers of a Civil Court for the purpose of taking evidence on oath and of enforcing the attendance of witnesses etc. The Committee feel that these powers are adequate for the proper functioning of the said Tribunal. The Committee have accordingly deleted proposed sub-section (2A), which provided for penalties for non-attendance or non-production of document or material objects in obedience to any summons issued by the Claims Tribunal.

Clause 62

The Committee are of the opinion that the expression "non-disclosure" or "non-disclosure of a material fact", used in the proposed new section 110CCC, is liable to be misused by the insurer at the time of payment of claims. In any case, the Committee feel that "misrepresentation" of a material fact would be wide enough to cover all the cases of non-disclosure. The Committee have accordingly amended the clause by omitting the expression "non-disclosure", therefrom.

Clauses 67 and 68

The Committee are of the view that heavier punishment should be imposed for any second or subsequent offence even if committed after the lapse of a period of three years of the commission of a previous similar offence. The Committee have accordingly modified the clauses.

Clause 70 (Original)

The clause has been omitted as a consequence of the amendments carried out in clauses 67 and 68.

Clause 71 (Original)

The amendment is of a verbal nature.

Clause 77 (Original Clause 78)

The explanation occurring in Form E of the First Schedule of the principal Act regarding "articulated vehicle" has been omitted consequent to the inclusion of that expression in clause 2 of the Bill. A new sub-paragraph (v) has accordingly been inserted under the paragraph amending Form E.

Clause 80 (Original Clause 81)

The amendments which have been made are consequential to the re-organisation of the State of Punjab and extension of the principal Act to the State of Jammu and Kashmir.

Clause 81 (Original Clause 82)

The Committee have, by inserting a new entry '(2) (e)' in the Eighth Schedule, put down a higher speed limit of 50 KMs. per hour for heavy motor vehicles (drawing trailers) used by the Fire Brigade, instead of 40 KMs. per hour provided for other similar heavy motor vehicles, so that the vehicles of the Fire Brigade may reach the site of fire as speedily as possible. The other change made in the clause is of a consequential nature.

15. The other changes made in the Bill are of a consequential or drafting nature.

16. The Committee recommend that the Bill as amended be passed.

MINUTES OF DISSENT

I

It is an open secret that there is great corruption in some of the States from top to bottom in granting permits for plying buses on certain specified routes. For granting such permits the R.T.A.'s and their superior or subordinate authorities indulge in various types of mal-practices. The permit-holders too, who are favourites of the ministers or the R.T.A.s, having no experience in the line of the trade, sometimes adopt corrupt means and sell their permits to outsiders at prices which vary from Rs. 5,000 to a lakh even.

Though nowhere in the principal Act the number of buses which could ply on a specified route, is fixed, in actual practice, it is being done and a much lesser number of buses is allowed on those routes. Naturally the prospective permit-holders in order to have exclusive right to those routes offer illegal gratification to such authorities for the permit with the result that while these route-owners, using dilapidated vehicles and crowding them to the brim from foot-board to the roof, make exorbitant profits, the travelling public is put to greatest inconvenience and hardship, which could better be imagined than described.

How to eliminate this mal-practice is the problem of the day. The bill does not contain any provision to put a stop to such a practice. It was suggested to add a proviso to clause 42 of the Bill saying that a ballot should be held for all the applicants and the necessary number chosen accordingly. But this ballot system could also be manoeuvred, and the same difficulty would arise due to short number of the vehicles on the route. Now our suggestion is that a provision should be made in the Bill that no application for permit should be refused simply on the ground that it exceeded the required number which is more or less arbitrarily fixed by the authorities to suit their own ends provided the applicants satisfied all other conditions and were otherwise eligible.

A situation may arise when permits could be granted to more applicants than the actual needs of the route. But why the Government should bother about it. It would be for the applicants to see whether it would be profitable or harmful to them and in doing so only those operators who could offer better service conditions would remain in the field and others will be eliminated on the principle of survival of the fittest. In this process, some people may lose some money but why again should the Government worry about the loss to a negligible few, who can afford to lose, in face of incalculable hardships to the millions of the travelling public.

In the present set-up what happens is that the permit-holder wants to fleece as much money as is possible out of the travelling public by treating them as beasts. Rotten, broken and dilapidated vehicles and over-crowding are the order of the day. Inasmuch as he knows fully well that there would not be any body else in the field to compete with him and the intending passengers shall have no other alternative but to travel by his vehicle. If there were one or more other operators, the travelling public would shun that devil and go to the other man who will offer them better service conditions and speedy means of reaching their destinations. As such monopoly of any particular person or group of persons should be eliminated. The Government is wedded to the principle of doing away with monopolies and monopolists and why the same principle should not be extended to the field of transport is a big question.

This practice has made the unscrupulous rich richer at the cost of the General Public. An element of healthy competition therefore is needed to be introduced in this trade so that even if there was a loss to a few, the millions of the general public could be provided with better comforts and not put to disadvantages and hardships, our motto being greatest good to greatest number of people. This could be achieved only if we could do away with the present arbitrary curbs and controls on permits and allow more operators to come in the field with a sense of competition for service of the people. The corruption and the resultant miseries to the people could be rooted out only if we allowed a free and healthy competition amongst the operators.

We would further suggest that it should be provided somewhere in this Bill that the number of the vehicle displayed on the plates may also be written in Hindi figures.

II

After giving a careful consideration I find that certain clauses benefit the insurance companies at the expense of passengers and third parties. One of such clauses is Clause 54 which amends Section 95 of the Principal Act. Clause b(ii) proposed to be substituted in sub-section (1) of Section 95 of the Principal Act, exempts insurance companies from giving compensation to those third parties, who are also to a certain extent negligent. Thus, for example, in Buses it is written that passengers should not keep their arms out. If by inadvertance a passenger keeps his arms out, and the other Bus coming from wrong side hits his arms then under the present Bill, Insurance Company will not be held liable. But at present under the existing law the courts do give the compensation though it is decreased on the ground that the passenger is also negligent to the extent of 20 per cent or 30 per cent as he kept his arm out in spite of the fact that it was written in bold letters in the Bus not to keep the arm out.

Again for example, a man crosses a crossing on foot though the signal gives a warning not to cross. Now a car comes at a very great speed and as the driver at that speed is unable to immediately stop therefore he over runs the man. Had the driver been driving slowly he could have saved the pedestrian who was crossing when the signal was against him.

Under the existing law most of the High Courts of India would hold that the pedestrian is guilty of contributory negligence, say to the extent of 40 per cent. Thus instead of giving Rs. 100 as compensation the heirs of dead man would get Rs. 60.

But under the proposed law the Insurance Companies would completely escape the liability. This provision is being copied from the English Law of Torts which is much more stringent. Even there they have started realizing the harshness.

An argument was given at the Committee meeting that this provision merely embodies the existing system of law. I would suggest that in the report of the Committee some decisions of the Indian High Courts after 1962 as instances for the benefit of the members be added as an Annexure. Such instances should be of third party who have been injured due to an accident and who have been held guilty by the courts for contributory negligence to the extent of 30 per cent and 40 per cent. And thus the Insurance Companies were exempted from the payment of the compensation to them.

Therefore, I submit that this provision should be deleted.
